Get the latest updates on living with movement disorders.

Movement disorders are on the rise. Eight million people in the U.S. are affected by essential tremor and 1.2 million live with Parkinson's disease. If these conditions affect you or a loved one, today's groundbreaking advances in technology offer more treatments than ever before to help improve your health and quality of life.

Come to our free lecture on Parkinson's and essential tremor. We'll help you separate the truth from the myths regarding movement disorders and you'll get the latest insights into treatment options. Also, Dancing Through Parkinson's, a group that uses dance to improve movement, will lead willing participants through a brief dance lesson.

Speakers:

- Melita Petrossian, M.D., medical director, Pacific Movement Disorders Center
- Jean-Philippe Langevin, M.D., director, Deep Brain Stimulation Program
